

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We can all benefit from our little differences!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's backgrounds in a wider variety of communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What traditions do you have in your family? Where did you get them from?
- What occasion do you celebrate with your entire family or with friends? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners and customs.
- I can talk about life experiences.
- I can talk about things that I'm supposed to do and things that are supposed to happen.

Let's Explore!

Jose is going to teach Chef Bruce how to dance the salsa and merengue. He's a natural!

* When you are a "natural", you are effortlessly very good at something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Chef Bruce: Jose, the food is getting cold. Dig in!

Jose: Thank you, Chef.

Chef Bruce: You can call me Bruce. We're a big family here. You don't have to be too formal.

Jose: Where I worked before coming to the States, we were supposed to address everyone with respect. It is not polite to call your superiors by name. People hold on to ... what's the word?

Chef Bruce: Decorum? That's when everything is supposed to be done according to the rules.

Jose: That's a good word. It describes some of the cultural differences I have noticed so far.

Chef Bruce: What else have you noticed?

Jose: As I explained to Vanessa, people take lunch very seriously back home. We all sit down with our families and enjoy our meal.

Chef Bruce: I wish it was the same here. Appreciating a good meal is definitely something we should pass on to the future generations.

Jose: I agree. I've also noticed that people don't mind dressing down for work or for going out.

Chef Bruce: Oh yeah? It's not the same in Colombia?

Jose: Not at all! You're supposed to wear something nice if you're going to be seen in public. Men and women should always be well-dressed.

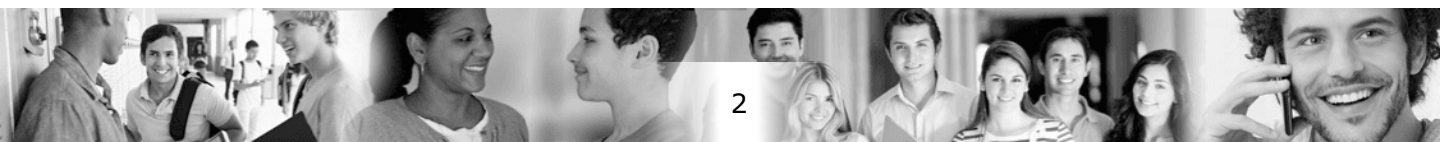

Chef Bruce: All the time?

Jose: Yes, even when we go dancing.

Chef Bruce: I heard that you love dancing in Colombia. Maybe you should teach me some steps.

Jose: I would love to.

Chef Bruce: I'm warning you, though: I have two left feet.

Let's Practice!

Jose talks about the cultural differences between America and Colombia.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Underline the incorrect word in each sentence and correct it. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. We're a big family here. You don't has to be too formal. _____.
2. Where I worked before coming to the States, we was supposed to address everyone with respect. It is not polite to call your superiors by name. _____.
3. I agree. I've also noticed that people do mind dressing down for work or for going out. _____.
4. You're suppose to wear something nice if you're going to be seen in public. _____.
5. I hearing that you love dancing in Colombia. _____.

Let's Practice!

Jose has learned some new words for work. Help him find them.

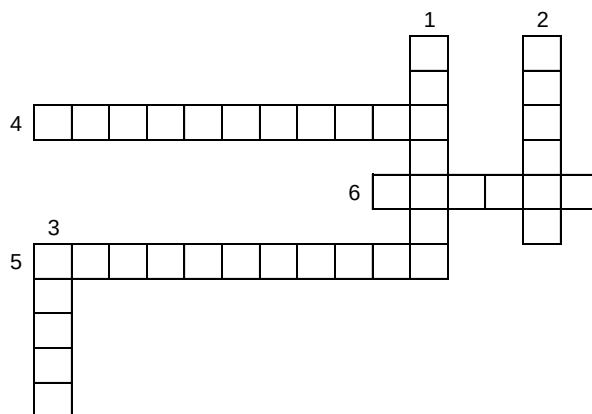

Instructions: Read the phrases. Complete the crossword with words related to work. Use the sentences to model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

Down

1. We all _____ with our families and enjoy our meal.
2. Appreciating a good meal is definitely something we should _____ to the future generations.
3. The food is ready. Everybody _____ before it gets cold.

Across

4. I can't dance very well because I have _____.
5. My boss always _____ for work. He never wears a suit.
6. In my country, people _____ to their traditions.

Extension Activity

What am I supposed to do in this country?

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Your friend is visiting our city.
- Brainstorm 8-10 pieces of advice you could give your friend about customs and manners here in this country.
- Use supposed to/ not supposed to.
- Compare with a partner and make a list of the top 5 most important points.
- With a partner make a poster including pictures representing your top 5 points.
- Present it to the class.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about manners and customs.

☐ ☐

I talk about things that I'm supposed to do and things that are supposed to happen.

☐ ☐

I present information in an interesting manner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to sit down (verb): to sit properly at a table for a meal
e.g. We all sit down with our families and enjoy our meal.
- to dig in (verb): to start eating e.g. The food is getting cold. Dig in!
- to hold on to (verb): to keep something dearly
e.g. In my country, people hold on to their traditions.
- decorum (noun): good behaviour, good etiquette and good taste
e.g. Decorum? That's when everything is supposed to be done according to the rules.
- to pass on (verb): to give someone something that someone else has given you e.g. Appreciating a good meal is definitely something we should pass on to the future generations.
- to dress down (verb): to wear informal clothes e.g. I've noticed that people don't mind dressing down for work or for going out.
- two left feet (expression): clumsy
e.g. I can't dance very well because I have two left feet.

Learning Points

Inseparable Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs consist of a verb and one or more prepositions. They are common, especially in informal spoken English. The meaning of phrasal verbs is often completely different from the meaning of the verb alone.

Separable phrasal verbs consist of two parts. They always require an object.

Inseparable phrasal verbs are very common. The verb must be directly followed by its preposition or adverb. Otherwise, the meaning of the phrasal verb will be incorrect. Some inseparable phrasal verbs never use an object.

Examples:

- get up = get out of bed
I get up at seven o'clock every morning.
- take off = leave the ground
The plane took off on time.
- look out = beware! be careful!
Look out! That car is going to hit you!

You can use the following inseparable phrasal verbs to describe life experiences.

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
to sit down	to sit properly on a chair
to dig in	to start eating
to hold on to	to keep something dearly
to pass on	to place into the custody of someone
to dress down	to dress very casually

Examples:

- We all sit down with our families and enjoy our meal.
- I've also noticed that people don't mind dressing down for work or for going out.

Learning Points

Should and Be Supposed To

You use the modal should or the structure be supposed to when you want to talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements.

You can use be supposed to to talk about situations in the present or future that are expected to happen.

The structure is:

Subject + To be + supposed to + verb

Sharing information with their new colleagues is something they're supposed to do .

*Pronunciation tip:

When you say be supposed to, you link the /d/ and /t/ sounds together.

Like this:

Be suppose_to

Examples:

- You're supposed to wear something nice if you're going to be seen in public.
- Men and women should always be well-dressed.

