

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Tonight's the night! Now is not the time to be stressed about it!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe taste and style in music and fashion through a wider range of language in both work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners and customs.
- I can talk about life experiences.
- I can explain my opinion.

Ask your partner:

- When do you like to dress up? For what occasions do you usually dress up?
- Do you think it's important to dress up to go to a restaurant? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Jose starts tonight! This is not a drill!

* A "drill" is a live rehearsal of a real-life situation.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Frank: Jose, one of our waiters just called. He's not going to be able to make it in tonight. I'd like you to fill in for him. Do you feel up to it?
- Jose: Sure! How can I not feel ready after all the pointers you've given me?
- Frank: I'm glad you see it that way. You're going to wait on the theater crowd tonight. That will not be disappointing!
- Jose: Why do you say that?
- Frank: They're a trendy bunch, you'll see. They're not your usual customers. They're extremely fashion-conscious.
- Jose: I'm not sure I understand ...
- Frank: They love to dress up. It is not common to see anyone wearing casual clothes on Friday or Saturday night here.
- Jose: Oh! So they are dressed to the nines!
- Frank: That's a great expression. You're learning fast!
- Jose: Thank you. I'm trying to keep up with my English lessons.
- Frank: Well, according to everyone, you're doing just fine. I think you can get by with what you know at this point.
- Jose: I hope so. Do you have any last minute advice on what I should do tonight?
- Frank: I can tell you what not to do. People who drop in after a play or a show don't like to feel rushed to finish their dinner or drinks.
- Jose: Alright. I will try not to get on their nerves!
- Frank: You'll be fine! I'm sure they'll love your accent!
- Jose: Let's hope they tip well, too.

Let's Practice!

Jose has learned some new phrases at work.

Instructions: Proofread the following sentences. Circle the incorrect words. Write the correct words after each sentence. Read the sentences again with the correct words and check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. He's not going to be able to make it tonight. I'd like you to fall in for him. You're going to waits on the theater crowd tonight. _____
2. It is not commons to see anyone wearing casual clothes on a Friday or Saturday night here. _____
3. They're not your usual customer. _____
4. They are extremely conscious-fashion. _____

Let's Practice!

Jose expresses his opinion about working on theater night.

Instructions: Read the sentences. Match the two halves to correctly complete the sentence (There are only 5 complete sentences). Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| 1. I think theater people | a. _____ like to go to the theater. |
| 2. According to Frank | b. _____ are very fashion-conscious. |
| 3. It seems that people in Boston | c. _____, the theater crowd are a trendy bunch. |
| 4. Frank thinks that Jose | d. _____ is ready to fill in. |
| 5. Jose seems to | e. _____ me that Jose is ready. |
| 6. Frank seem to | |
| 7. It seems to | |

Extension Activity

Write about a night out with a friend.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a dialogue about a night out at a trendy restaurant/pub.
- Use the phrasal verbs from this lesson.
- Make the dialogue 6-8 sentences long.
- Dictate your dialogue to a group.
- Your partners must write down the gist of your story.
- Next, work together to fill in the missing grammar details.
- After 10 minutes, compare their dialogue to yours.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about manners and customs.

☐ ☐

I talk about life experiences.

☐ ☐

I explain my opinion.

☐ ☐

I listen for gist.

☐ ☐

I add grammar details.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to dress up (verb): to wear elegant clothes
e.g. People like to dress up on Saturday nights.
- to get by with (verb): to manage with little effort
e.g. I think you can get by with what you know at this point.
- to wait on (verb): to serve in a restaurant
e.g. You're going to wait on some important customers tonight.
- to fill in for (verb): to substitute for e.g. Mike can't make it, so Joe is going to fill in for him.
- fashion-conscious (adjective): always aware of how their clothes look e.g. Models are extremely fashion-conscious.
- theater crowd (noun): people who love to go to the theater
e.g. Saturday nights are popular with the theater crowd.
- dressed to the nines (expression): dressed very elaborately
e.g. Wow. A tuxedo, cane and top hat. You really dressed to the nines.

Learning Points

The Position of Not

In English, the adverb not usually goes after the auxiliary verb or “be” to form the negative.

You can use the adverb not in other positions in some cases.

Usually, we find the adverb not in conjunction with an auxiliary verb or “be” in a negative sentence.

Example:

He's not going to be able to make it.

That will not be disappointing.

People don't like to feel rushed = People do not like to feel rushed.

When you use the long form instead of the contraction, you emphasize the negation of the verb.

You also find not before a verb in the Infinitive.

Example:

I can tell you what not to do.

I will try not to get on their nerves.

Inseparable Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs consist of a verb and one or more prepositions. They are common, especially in informal spoken English. The meaning of phrasal verbs is often completely different from the meaning of the verb alone.

Separable phrasal verbs consist of two parts. They always require an object.

Inseparable phrasal verbs are very common. The verb must be directly followed by its preposition or adverb. Otherwise, the meaning of the phrasal verb will be incorrect. Some inseparable phrasal verbs never use an object.

Examples:

- get up = get out of bed

I get up at seven o'clock every morning.

- take off = leave the ground

The plane took off on time.

- look out = beware! be careful!

Look out! That car is going to hit you!

You can use the following inseparable phrasal verbs to describe life experiences.

Learning Points

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
to dress up	to wear elegant clothes
to talk back	to respond in an impolite way
to put up with	to tolerate
to look down on	to feel superior to someone to look up to	to respect someone to hang around	to spend time with
to get by with	to manage with little effort
to wait on	to serve in a restaurant
to fill in for	to replace someone

Examples:

- I'd like you to fill in for our waiter tonight. Do you feel up to it?
- I think you can get by with what you know at this point.

