

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's give a warm welcome to our new colleague! Moving to a new city in the winter isn't easy!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's backgrounds in a wider variety of communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners and customs.
- I can talk about life experiences.
- I can talk about my attitudes toward an action.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever experienced a cold winter? How did you feel?
- What is your favorite work environment? Home? School? A cafe? Why?

Let's Explore!

Jose is hired as a new waiter. Will he be able to stand Boston's cold winter?

* When you "stand" something, you can face it with success.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Jose: Hola, Miss ... ?
- Vanessa: I'm Vanessa. You must be Jose! I'm glad to finally meet you.
- Jose: It is my pleasure to meet you too. Thank you for meeting me. I'm excited to start working in your restaurant. I didn't expect to get a job so fast.
- Vanessa: Hiring the right people isn't easy, but I had a good feeling about your application. Judging from your CV, you seem to possess a strong work ethic.
- Jose: Thank you. I hope I have what it takes to become a member of your team.
- Vanessa: I'm sure you will. How long have you been in Cambridge?
- Jose: I arrived a few weeks ago. Traveling in the winter is very cold!
- Vanessa: Were you surprised to see so much snow when you got here?
- Jose: Not really. I read up on Boston's winters to prepare myself! I wanted to know what kind of adjustments I would need to make to my life here.
- Vanessa: That was probably a good idea. Our summers make up for the cold, though. You'll see.
- Jose: That sounds good! My favorite hobbies are swimming and jogging.
- Vanessa: Fantastic! Now, let me show you around. I want to see to it that you understand how everything works. Making sure that my staff are the best in town is something I take seriously.
- Jose: I understand. I'll keep at it.
- Vanessa: I'm sure you will. Now, if you'll excuse me, I need to carry on with today's tasks ...

Let's Practice!

Vanessa talks a little about managing a restaurant!

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B. When you complete the sentences, read the sentences aloud with your partner. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. I'm excited to start working
2. Judging from your CV,
3. Hiring the right people
4. Traveling in the winter
5. Were you surprised to see so much
6. I wanted to know what kind

COLUMN B

- a. isn't easy.
- b. snow?
- c. is very cold.
- d. in your restaurant.
- e. of adjustments I would need to make.
- f. you seem to possess a strong work ethic.

Let's Practice!

Jose finds these words difficult!

Instructions: Read the sentences and find the words in the Word Bank. Use the sentences to model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

Word Bank

carry on with / read up / make up for / see to / work ethic / adjustment / keep at

1. I'm traveling . I _____ on Boston's winters to prepare myself.
2. I understand the job and I'll _____ it.
3. I need to _____ with today's tasks.
4. Our summers _____ the cold winters.
5. I need to _____ my customers at the restaurant.
6. You seem to have a strong _____. You look like a hard-working man.
7. I wanted to know what kind of _____ I would need to make to my life here.

Extension Activity

Talk about places you have been to.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a list of five places you have been in the last few days.
- Exchange the list with a partner. Ask and answer the question Why did you go to ... ?
- Use infinitives to give your answer.
- Now, write five sentences about yourself using a gerund.
- Use adjectives to complete the sentences.
- Exchange with a partner and discuss.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I write a list of places I have been to lately.

☐ ☐

I ask and answer questions about the places.

☐ ☐

I write sentences using gerunds.

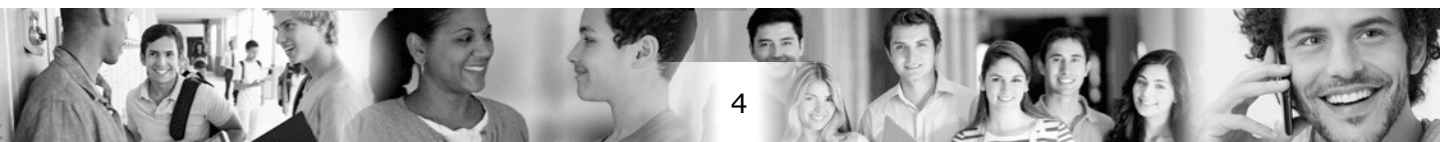

☐ ☐

I discuss the sentences with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to read up on (verb): to spend time researching information on something e.g. I read up on Boston's winters to prepare myself.
- to keep at (verb): to continue to do something; to persevere e.g.
Ann: You need to understand how the kitchen works before you start working.
Bob: I'll keep at it.
- to carry on with (verb): to continue doing something e.g. I need to carry on with today's tasks.
- to make up for (verb): to compensate for something missing
e.g. Our summers make up for the cold winters.
- to see to (verb): to deal with or take responsibility for someone or something e.g. I need to see to my customers.
- work ethic (noun): a belief in the importance of work to build character
e.g. You seem to have a strong work ethic.
- adjustment (noun): to adapt to a situation or condition
e.g. I wanted to know what kind of adjustments I would need to make to my life here.

Learning Points

Verb + -ing and to + verb

A gerund works like a noun. It is made by adding "-ing" to the base form of a verb. You can use a gerund as the subject or the object of a sentence, or as the complement. The infinitive is the base form of a verb - "to + verb".

A gerund is the -ing form of a verb that acts as a noun. The noun refers to an activity instead of a person or thing. You can use a gerund as the subject, the complement, or the object of a sentence.

Examples:

Subject of sentence:

Traveling in the winter is very cold!

Complement of sentence:

My favorite hobbies are swimming and jogging.

Object of sentence:

I'm excited to start working in your restaurant.

An infinitive is a verb form that can act as a noun. It is formed with to + base form of the verb.

Example: to talk, to enjoy, to play

You cannot add s, es, ed, or ing to the end. It is not a verb.

Example:

I wanted to know what kind of adjustments I would need to make to my life here.

Learning Points

Inseparable Phrasal Verbs

A phrasal verb is made up of a verb and one or more prepositions, or particles. They are very common, particularly in informal spoken English. Adding a preposition to a verb often completely changes the meaning that the original verb has on its own.

Phrasal verbs can be separable or inseparable.

Separable phrasal verbs take an object between the verb and the preposition. They always require an object.

Inseparable phrasal verbs are very common. The verb and preposition must stay together. The object cannot come after the verb.

Some inseparable phrasal verbs never use an object.

Examples:

- get up = get out of bed
When do you get up during the week?
- take off = leave the ground
The plane took off on time.
- look out = beware! be careful!
Look out! You're going to hurt yourself doing that!

You can use the following inseparable phrasal verbs to describe life experiences.

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
to read up on	to read information about a subject
to keep at	to continue doing something to carry on with	to continue doing something to make up for	to compensate for something missing
to see to	to take care of something

Examples:

- Ann: I read up on Boston's winters to prepare myself!
- Bob: Our summers make up for the cold, though. You'll see.

